1. Polish exiles [ ] believe that Mikolajczyk will adopt the following course of action after he reaches England:

25X1

- (a) Despite his non-recognition of the Polish group [ ] and the President in Exile, Mikolajczyk will attempt to reach some agreement with Zalowski by which they can work together. Agreement would entail Mikolajczyk's recognition of Zalowski and his group as representing Poland proper.

25X.1

- (b) If Mikolajczyk cannot reach an agreement with Zaleski he will attempt to establish a group distinct from the [ ] Poles. This group would probably be associated with the International Peasant Movement of Nagy, Gavrilovitch, Dimitrov, and others, and would make a strong bid for Polish-American support.

2. The [ ] Poles believe that:

- (a) Mikolajczyk no longer truly represents Poland,
- (b) his policy is bankrupt,
- (c) he still believes that he can work with the USSR, even though he cannot with the Polish Communists.
